Full Marks – 80
Time – 3 Hours

General Instructions:
(i) The paper is divided into three sections: A, B & C. All the sections are compulsory.
(ii) Separate instructions are given with each section and question wherever necessary. Read these instructions very carefully and follow them.
(iii) Do not exceed the prescribed word limit while answering the questions.
(iv) Marks for each question are indicated against it.

SECTION – A: Reading (15 marks)

1. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow:

   Punctuality is a necessary habit in all public affairs of a civilised society. Without it, nothing could ever be brought to a conclusion, everything would be in a state of chaos. Only in a sparsely populated rural community, is it possible to disregard it. In ordinary living, there can be some tolerance of punctuality. The intellectual who is working on some abstruse problem has everything coordinated and organised for the matter in hand. He is therefore, forgiven, if late for the dinner party.

   But people are often reproached for the unpunctuality when their only fault is cutting things fine. It is hard for energetic, quick-minded people to waste time, so they are often tempted to finish a job before sitting out to keep an appointment. If no accidents occur on the way, like punctured tyres, diversion of traffic, sudden descent of fog, they will be on time. They are often more industrious useful citizens than those who are always late. The over punctual can as much be a trial to others as the unpunctual. The guest who arrives half an hour too soon is the greatest nuisance. Some friends of my family had this irritating habit.
The only thing to do was to ask them to come half an hour later than the other guests. Then they arrived just when we wanted them.

If you are catching a train, it is always better to be comfortably early than even a fraction of a minute too late. Although being early may mean wasting a little time, this will be less than if you miss the train and have to wait an hour or so for the next one. Also, you avoid the frustration of arriving at the very moment when the train is drawing out of the station and being unable to get on it. An even harder situation is to be on the platform in good time for a train and to still see it go off without you. Such an experience befell a certain young girl the first time she was travelling alone.

She entered the station twenty minutes before the train was due, since her parents had impressed upon her that it would be unforgivable to miss and cause the friends with which she was going to stay to make two journeys to meet her. She gave her luggage to a porter and showed him her ticket. To her horror, he said that she was two hours too soon. She felt in the handbag for the piece of paper on which her father had written down the details of the journey and gave it to the porter. He agreed that a train did come into the station at the time on the paper and that it did stop, but only to take on water, not passengers. The girl asked to see a timetable, feeling sure that her father could not have made a mistake. The porter went to fetch one and arrived back with the station master, who produced it with a flourish and pointed out a microscopic '0' beside the time of the arrival of the train at his station. This little 0 indicated that the train only stopped for water. Just at that moment, the train came into the station. The girl with tears streaming down her face, begged to be allowed to slip into the guards van. But the station master was adamant: rules could not be broken. And she had to watch that train disappear towards her destination while she was left behind.

A. Based on your understanding of the passage, answer the following questions briefly: $2 \times 2 = 4$

(a) Why is punctuality necessary in a civilised society?

(b) The over-punctual can be as much a trial to others as the un-punctual. Why?

B. Select the appropriate answer from the given options: $2 \times 1 = 2$

   (iv) sparsely

(b) hard working
   (i) frustrating
   (ii) unpunctuality
   (iii) chivalrous
   (iv) industrious

2. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow:

Conversation is indeed the most easily teachable of all arts. All you need to do in order to become a good conversationalist is to find a subject that interests you and your listeners. There are, for example, numberless hobbies to talk about. But the important things are that you must talk about other fellow’s hobbies rather than your own. Therein lies the secret of your popularity. Talk to your friends about the things than interest them, and you will get a reputation for good fellowship, charming wit and a brilliant mind. There is nothing that pleases people so much as your interest in their interests.

It is just as important to know what subjects to avoid as subject to select for good conversation. If you don’t want to be set as a wet blanket or a bore, be careful to avoid certain unpleasant topics. Avoid talking about yourself; unless you are asked to do so. People are interested in their own problems, and not in yours. Sickness or death bores everybody. The only one who willingly listens to such talk is the doctor, but he gets paid for it.

To be a good conversationalist, you must know not only what to say but how to say it. Be civil and modest. Don’t overemphasize your own importance. Be mentally quick and witty, but don’t hurt others with your wit. Finally try to avoid mannerism in your conversation.

(a) On the basis of your reading of the passage make notes on it using recognisable abbreviations wherever necessary. Supply a suitable title to it.

(b) Write a summary of the above passage in about 80 words.
